[ ] On January 30, 1990, Investigative Assistant (IA) [ ] reviewed the Matter Under Review (MUR), at the Federal Election Committee (FEC), 999 E Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., concerning the appointee, GUY VICTOR MOLINARI. The following pertinent information was obtained:

b6
b7C

MUR number 1417, revealed that a signed and sworn complaint was filed by the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee ("DCCC"), [ ] on December 14, 1981, against forty-eight (48) named Republican members of Congress. DCCC characterizes a letter dated October 30, 1981, and distributed to various political action committees as a solicitation for contributions by the named congressman (see complaint). DCCC alleges that the communication to the PACs was in violation of section 441d because it failed to include the required "disclaimer" stating the identity of the persons who authorized and paid for the communication. Second, DCCC alleges that the forty-eight (48) named congressmen are in violation of Section 433 for failing to register themselves with the Commission as a political committee.

b7C

On February 19, 1982, [ ] General Counsel, and [ ] Associate General Counsel of the Office of General Counsel recommended that the Commission:

b6
b7C

1. find no reason to believe that the forty-eight (48) congressmen named in the complaint violated 2 U.S.C. and 441d by failing to include the proper disclaimer on the communication dated October 30, 1981;

2. find no reason to believe that the forty eight congressmen named in the complaint violated 2 U.S.C. and 433 for failing to register themselves as a political committee; and

3. closed the file.

Attached are copies of (1) Summary of Allegations, (2) Statement of the Case, (3) Memorandum, (4) Certified Letter to MOLINARI, dated December 23, 1981, (5) Complaint, (6) Letter to the PAC Manager, dated October 30, 1981, (7) Certification, (8) Certified Letters to [ ] and [ ] and (9) Additional Material Added to the Public File of the Closed MUR 1417.

FIFTEENTH DISTRICT

"Rockefeller Center," writes Jan Morris, remembering what it looked like in Manhattan 41 "stood in the heart of midtown, the area of the smartest shops, the grandest hotels, the plush offices, the theaters, the expensive apartment houses, which set the civic reputation. Manhattan's midtown occupied 20 or 30 blocks, perhaps a mile square, around the focus of, say, Fifth Avenue and 59th Street. Beyond it there stretched away wide areas of slum and dullness. The perfumed stockade," Theodore White called it when the cities seemed beset by riots, the rather few blocks around his own house on East 64th Street where the richest people of the richest city in the world lived, uncomfortably aware that they were only a few blocks away from rather tawdry apartment buildings and not that far away from the violent slums of Harlem. And as

Morris points out, "provincial America never felt far distant—just over the Hudson River, only a few hundred yards away, all the rest began"—as you could see when you looked far enough west to almost any Manhattan cross street.

This upper class enclave in Manhattan was set apart in a separate congressional district as early as 1918, called as early as the 1930s, the Silk Stocking District. What has happened through the five decades since is that elite, affluent Manhattan has spread from this narrow enclave and taken over the greater part of the island, at least when you are counting residents who take the trouble to vote. In the process, the political attitudes of this much-broadened upper class—defined partly by income, but also by association with elite tastes in the arts, fashion, sports, all the things in which New York remains clearly the nation's capital—have changed, and changed again, in a progress that needs some charting.

Fifty years ago the Silk Stocking District went no farther east of Central Park than Third Avenue, where the El separated the rich area from the rest of the East Side and its factories, breweries, and the German immigrant community of Yorkville. Today's Silk Stocking District, the 15th Congressional District of New York, extends as far south as City Hall, just a few blocks north of the financial district (which could easily have been included: there aren't many students or voters in those blocks), covers the Lower East Side, all of Midtown north of 14th Street, and even the Times Square area. It bypasses Greenwich Village and SoHo, but only by a few blocks, and many of the denizens of their nightlife actually live and vote (if they bother) within the bounds of the 15th District.

Most of the voters in this district live on the Upper East Side, from the East 50s to the East 90s, between Central Park and the East River. This is the largest concentration of singles in America. These are the people who make Manhattan the center of the nation's securities, publishing, advertising, entertainment, broadcasting and communications industries.

The Silk Stocking District has always been culturally more liberal and tolerant than the rest of the nation that it sees glowering over the Hudson. In partisan terms it was, from its creation in 1918 until the 1960s, more Republican than the nation—more than that, the heartland of the liberal, confident, ruling Republican Party of the era of Theodore Roosevelt and William Howard Taft. In the 1950s, when it was one of six Manhattan districts, it was the embodiment of liberal Republicanism—a philosophy articulated in the old New York Herald-Tribune and Henry Luce's Time magazine that accepted the New Deal and embraced America's commitments abroad, but that felt that the natural executors of those policies were the well-educated Protestant gentlemen one saw strolling down Madison Avenue to their clubs, not the creators of political bosses who made deals with labor union leaders and racketeers. Successful in 1952, hopeful that Nelson Rockefeller would capture the presidency in 1960, these establishment Republicans had their last success in the election of John Lindsay, then Silk Stocking District congressman, as mayor of New York in 1965, just a couple of years before the Herald Tribune merged and folded.

Lindsay proved a disaster as mayor, running up huge debts that nearly bankrupted the city in 1967 and allowing neighborhoods to deteriorate so badly that the city lost one million people in the 1970s, but he personified nicely the change in Silk Stocking politics. Starting off as a member of an establishment, he became scathingly critical of almost all existing institutions except those whose heads parroted his line, carrying the tone of black power advocates and student rioters to middle-class life in the outer boroughs (which never voted for him). It is a measure of the power of New York-based media that with this record he was considered by some a plausible candidate for President in 1972. In the process, he switched to the Democratic Party—a switch most Silk Stocking district voters made by 1968 when they elected a Greenwich Village reformer named Edward Koch as their congressman.

Koch went on to be elected mayor in 1977 as the candidate of the outer boroughs, using his Manhattan liberal critics as foils. The Silk Stocking District, with its constant population

Civil Lawsuit

On January 25, 1990, records were searched at the Richmond County Courthouse concerning the civil lawsuit that resulted from the automobile accident that the appointee was involved in. Docket number 1079-71 was located in the microfiche section, and it referred to the lawsuit filed by the appointee following the automobile accident. The caption of the lawsuit was Supreme Court of the State of New York, County of Richmond, GUY V. MOLINARI, and MARGUERITE MOLINARI, plaintiffs, against [redacted] [redacted] as administratrix of the estate of RITA M. PERZ, deceased, Brook-Hatten Utilities, Inc., and [redacted] defendants. Records of the lawsuit indicate that the appointee suffered severe injuries in the automobile accident. The entire microfiche record was reviewed. Judgment was entered for the appointee in the amount of $48,000, and $2,000 was awarded to his wife for loss of his services. This judgment was appealed, and affirmed in a superior court. The judgment was entered March 30, 1972, and was affirmed on December 11, 1972, in the Appellate Division.

While verifying this information, an employee of the County Clerk's Office, [redacted] was interviewed regarding the appointee. [redacted] advised that she was part of an informal group formed by the appointee known as "Toll Buster's." This group had as its objective the reduction of the toll amounts on the bridges leading to Staten Island. The appointee was a leader in attempting to lower the tolls for Staten Island residents. He is well known as a community leader, and is highly respected in all aspects of his character. He does not abuse drugs or alcohol, and is a very loyal United States citizen. [redacted] did not know of any type of derogatory information concerning the appointee, and stated that he has never expressed bias or prejudice toward anyone. He does fight hard for the residents of Staten Island, and his efforts are appreciated. This is quite obvious since he has recently been elected the Borough President. She highly recommends him for a Presidential appointment.

GUY VICTOR MOLINARI, Staten Island Borough President, was interviewed in the Borough President's office, Staten Island Borough Hall, Staten Island, New York. He was advised of the identity and purpose of the interviewing agent. He was told that the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) will be conducting a background investigation to develop information which others will consider in determining his suitability for appointment to the Legal Services Corporation. He was then told that the FBI does not participate in such decisions and makes no recommendations pertaining thereto. He was also told that the FBI is not restricted in the background investigation only to the information solicited by the SF-86, or any other form submitted. Thereafter, MOLINARI advised as follows:

He had completely and accurately filled out the SF-86. He had no personal or business credit issues, including, but not limited to, repossessions, delinquent student loans, debts placed for collection, or bankruptcy. He has only been involved personally in one civil lawsuit. He was a plaintiff in a lawsuit brought in 1968. It involved an automobile accident in Dutchess County, New York. He was a passenger in an automobile which had gone to Dutchess County on a hunting trip. He sued the driver of the car that he was in, [REDACTED] and the estate of the other driver. He received a verdict in 1972 of $48,000, and his wife received $2,000 for her loss of his services. He has been involved in no other lawsuits. However, he stated that in the past, his law firm had possibly sued various clients for nonpayment of their fees. He could not recall any specifics concerning any of these lawsuits. He has never been involved in any criminal matter as a suspect of a subject, nor has he ever been the subject of any criminal charge, arrest, or conviction. He has never been denied any employment or dismissed from employment, particularly in the federal sector.

Because he was a United States Congressman, he made numerous trips to foreign countries, which were detailed in the supplemental section of his SF-86. He was never contacted during any of these trips by any representatives of the foreign countries. These trips were made to Rome, Central America, and Lebanon, as part of official Congressional business. However, during his freshman term in Congress, probably 1981, his office sent a letter to either the Soviet Ambassador or the General Secretary of the Communist Party concerning President REAGAN's offer pertaining to arms reduction. Thereafter, he was visited in his office by a Soviet official named [redacted]. He made certain that [redacted] was present in the room when [redacted] came to visit. [redacted] was possibly the First Secretary, and was coming to the Congressional Office in Washington, D.C., to possibly seek an appointment for the General Secretary. MOLINARI was rather surprised, since he was only a first term congressman, and could not understand why the Soviet officials had an interest in speaking to him. He ended up having a couple of hour meeting with [redacted] during which he brought up the subject of Soviet Jewry. This made [redacted] somewhat angry. [redacted] said that possibly he would return and the two men could have lunch or dinner someday, but he never called back following the meeting. [redacted]

MOLINARI was aware of no details of his personal life that could ever be used to coerce him. He has only had one professional complaint lodged against him, and has never been subjected to any nonjudicial disciplinary action, Bar Association grievances, Better Business Bureau complaints, student or military disciplinary proceedings, or equal employment opportunity complaints. The one complaint that was lodged was lodged by an individual from Staten Island named [redacted]. This was referred to in supplemental question 6S on his SF-86. [redacted] was a potential opponent in the 1980 congressional race. Originally, MOLINARI did not wish to run for Congress, and he had assured other individuals that he would not run. Thereafter, three Republicans sought the office. However, he later changed his mind and decided to run for Congress. MOLINARI caused the New York

State election officials to question the signatures on the petitions of his opponents, and two of them were ruled out. [redacted] feeling disgruntled over this, later brought an ethics complaint to the New York State Assembly concerning MOLINARI. This complaint dealt with legislation that MOLINARI was pushing for in Albany for the Staten Island Rapid Transit Operating Authority (SIRTOA) employees. SIRTOA employees were underpaid, earning much less than other railroad employees in the surrounding area. MOLINARI was trying to increase their benefits through legislation in Albany. During this period of time, two other attorneys merged with his firm. These were labor lawyers, and the firm was known as Casella and Corbo. Casella and Corbo were representing SIRTOA employees in a lawsuit that was brought to increase their benefits. The charge was a conflict of interest. However, in reality, if MOLINARI's legislation were to be made into law, it would represent a loss to his firm, since Casella and Corbo stood to gain from the SIRTOA employees' lawsuit. Extensive hearings were held in New York by the Ethics Committee, and a formal opinion was issued. The Ethics Committee held that MOLINARI, in his role as a legislator, had operated under the highest set of ethics. He was completely exonerated of all charges. During the Ethics Committee hearings, he was represented by [redacted] is currently [redacted]

MOLINARI has no business or investment circumstances that could or have involved conflict of interest allegations. He has never been to visit a psychiatrist, psychologist, or other qualified counselor for any type of psychological counseling. He has never abused prescription drugs or alcohol, and has never used any type of illegal drug to include marijuana. He has never participated in any drug or alcohol counseling or rehabilitation programs. He is not a member of any organization whose policies restrict membership on the basis of sex, race, color, religion, or national origin. He is aware of no other current or past circumstances that could ever have a bearing on his suitability for federal employment or access to classified information. As a matter of fact, about three years ago, he received a "Q" clearance in connection with the Home Port naval station on Staten Island.

MOLINARI resigned from Congress on December 31, 1989, and took office as the Borough President of Staten Island on January 1, 1990. While serving as a congressman in Washington, D.C., he first had an apartment in the Buchanan House in Arlington, Virginia. He was roommates with [redacted] who was then [redacted], and [redacted]. He stayed there for about two years. Then he moved into Pentagon City, Virginia, with his daughter, and had an apartment at the Cavendish Apartments. He stayed there about two years, and then moved to Arlington Ridge Apartments on Arlington Ridge Boulevard in Arlington, Virginia. He moved once within the same building from the first floor to the second floor, but was uncertain of the dates in the various apartments.

Guy Molinari and 800-plus acres

By JIM HUGHES
ADVANCE STAFF WRITER

The name of U.S. Rep. Guy Molinari appears on a land deed alongside nine other names, including John Dileo, an ex-convict recently identified by law enforcement authorities as having aspirational and criminal tendencies. The deed, prepared in the advance from the county clerk's office, was filed in 1985.

Molinari and his partners purchased the land in 1985. Molinari was reported to in federal financial disclosure statements that he has a 15 percent interest in the land, a tract that is reportedly more than 800 acres. During a telephone interview, the Republican congressman acknowledged that Dileo was a partner in the deal and that he had known Dileo for years before the purchase.

Molinari responded to all questions about the partnership, saying he only learned of the reputed connection from a recent newspaper story. The congressman said he had no intention of selling the property because of the connection. He said he had known Dileo for years before the purchase.

I think it's pretty clear that individuals who are involved in like this," he said. "It is in to lose perspective and get lost in the gutter. The people responsible for being very aware. But things do happen in politics. Some people don't know where to draw the line."

Molinari said he was not involved in the deal and that he had no intention of selling the property because of the connection. He said he had known Dileo for years before the purchase.

Sheehy challenges Molinari record

BEST AVAILABLE COPY

STATEN ISLAND REGISTER, October 25, 1984

A spontaneous debate erupted between congressional candidates Guy Molinari and Kevin Sheehy at the League for a Better Government forum held at the Beachcomber last week.

During the formal program, Molinari spoke before Sheehy, focusing on his most recent efforts as congressman to initiate change on Staten Island.

Molinari said that he had lost 800 jobs from going to the South when he fought to bring the Navy Resale office to Staten Island.

He also cited the environment as the single most important issue on Staten Island.

Molinari denounced the American Cyanamid Company of Linden, New Jersey's recent toxic gas leak that contaminated the air and sickened Islanders. He also said that he supports the reorganization of the Clean Air Act in an effort to stop New Jersey from sending its air pollution to the Island. In addition, he said that he has fought to keep the Island's liquefied natural gas tanks empty in Roosevelt. And he expressed his frustration over the battle to build a power plant in Travis.

On the transportation issue, he said that he was successful in his fight to get 20 articulated buses for the Island. On this issue, Molinari said that he "fought for Staten Island and Staten Island only." But, at the same time, he admitted that he was in support of the buses that the other boroughs received.

Sheehy attacked the incumbent on his record. "The bottom line in how to rate the performance of a congressman is simply on what he does for us, how he exercises his constitutional responsibilities to uphold the law of the land and how he brings home the bacon for our district," said Sheehy.

Sheehy said the Republican party has used F.D.R., L.B.J. and J.F.K. continuously as their people. Well, old K.I.S., that's me, I want to borrow a little twist from President Reagan.

When a politician is elected, he has a duty to the people. I want you to keep in mind that Reagan has failed to spend $750 million, allocated by the Democratic congress, under the Mass Transportation Bill. I want to know if transportation is any better here with Mr. Molinari on the committee? A nice guy, but I do not think so."

"Guy is on the Public Works and Transportation Committee. I want you to keep in mind that Reagan has failed to spend $750 million, allocated by the Democratic congress, under the Mass Transportation Bill. I want to know if transportation is any better here with Mr. Molinari on the committee? A nice guy, but I do not think so."

Sheehy also mentioned that Molinari sits on the Small Business Minority Enterprise and General Small Business Problems Committees. He asked the audience if they are any better off because of that and he got a hefty negative response. "Judge for yourself," said Sheehy.

Regarding Molinari's participation on the Congressional Environmental and Energy Study Conference, Sheehy said, "no matter how you cut the bacon or the sausage, Molinari has not done a thing for the people of Staten Island in the last two congresses.

Sheehy also accused Molinari of using his position on the Congressional Travel and Tourism Caucus for a junket to Rome in the guise of studying hunger.

Molinari criticized Sheehy for the "worst political demagoguery I've heard in all my campaigns."

Molinari defended his attendance record stating that in the first five years in the assembly and the current year in congress, he has had a 100 percent attendance.

He also called Sheehy's reference to his trip to Rome as a junket, "an insult." Molinari said that as a direct result of the knowledge he acquired through his participation in the conference, he introduced a bill for $150 million in emergency food aid to the poor and starving in Africa.

Molinari also defended his vote against funding for the Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, saying that the center was a waste of money.

Sheehy responded that the Kennedy Center was a waste of money and that the Island should be concerned with its own problems.

Sheehy also said that he was in support of the buses that the other boroughs received.

He also said that he was in support of the buses that the other boroughs received.

He also said that he was in support of the buses that the other boroughs received.

Molinari said that he believed that Islanders were represented by local officials on the subject of transportation, but local officials have a minority vote on the city government. At the same time, he expressed no support for the city government. David Marchi, president of the Borough Board and City Council, said that he was the one who introduced the bill to create the Metropolitan Transportation Authority.

His opponent Joseph Selley, a Liberal Party candidate, brought up the transportation issue on the Island. Selley advanced his support for the abolition of the Metropolitan Transportation Authority. He said that if elected he would abolish the MTA and replace it with an agency that would recognize and service the transportation needs on the Island.

Other transportation issues were raised by Anthony Marchi, president of the Borough Board and City Council, said that he was the one who introduced the bill to create the Metropolitan Transportation Authority.

Molinari said he believed that Islanders were represented by local officials on the subject of transportation, but local officials have a minority vote on the city government. On January 30, 1990, Investigative Assistant (IA) [ ] reviewed the Matter Under Review (MUR), at the Federal Election Committee (FEC), 999 E Street, N.W., Washington, D.C., concerning the appointee, GUY VICTOR MOLINARI. The following pertinent information was obtained:

b6
b7C

MUR number 1417, revealed that a signed and sworn complaint was filed by the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee ("DCCC"), [ ] on December 14, 1981, against forty-eight (48) named Republican members of Congress. The complaint alleges that the congressmen violated 2 U.S.C. 44d and 433. DCCC characterizes a letter dated October 30, 1981, and distributed to various political action committees as a solicitation for contributions by the named congressman (see complaint). DCCC alleges that the communication to the PACs was in violation of section 441d because it failed to include the required "disclaimer" stating the identity of the persons who authorized and paid for the communication. Second, DCCC alleges that the forty-eight (48) named congressmen are in violation of Section 433 for failing to register themselves with the Commission as a political committee.

b7C

On February 19, 1982, [ ] General Counsel, and [ ] Associate General Counsel of the Office of General Counsel recommended that the Commission:

b6
b7C

1. find no reason to believe that the forty-eight (48) congressmen named in the complaint violated 2 U.S.C. and 441d by failing to include the proper disclaimer on the communication dated October 30, 1981;

2. find no reason to believe that the forty eight congressmen named in the complaint violated 2 U.S.C. and 433 for failing to register themselves as a political committee; and

3. closed the file.

Attached are copies of (1) Summary of Allegations, (2) Statement of the Case, (3) Memorandum, (4) Certified Letter to MOLINARI, dated December 23, 1981, (5) Complaint, (6) Letter to the PAC Manager, dated October 30, 1981, (7) Certification, (8) Certified Letters to [ ] and [ ] and (9) Additional Material Added to the Public File of the Closed MUR 1417.

Information has been received from the Federal Election Commission (FEC) indicating its files contain no record concerning Mr. Molinari, except the following:

Records of the FEC indicate that a complaint was filed on December 14, 1981, against Mr. Molinari and 47 other congressmen by the Chairman of the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee. The complaint alleged that the congressmen had distributed a letter to various political action committees in order to solicit contributions, and the letter did not include a disclaimer identifying the persons who authorized and paid for the communication. The complaint also alleged that they had also failed to register as a political committee with the FEC.

In February, 1982, the complaint was presented to the Office of the General Counsel who found no FEC violations by the congressmen and the file was closed.

The incumbent Richmond County District Attorney, William L. Murphy, said yesterday that he had played no role in the trial of a man accused of threatening his opponent, Borough President Guy V. Molinari of Staten Island. In the run-up to the election, volunteers campaigned for Mr. Molinari.

Assailing Foe, Molinari Tells of a Death Threat

By JONATHAN P. HICKS

In an attack on William L. Murphy in the Staten Island district attorney's race, a spokesman for his opponent, Guy V. Molinari, said yesterday that a man sentenced to week-ends in jail for car theft had threatened Mr. Molinari's life.

The spokesman, Ed Burke, said that Mr. Molinari, the Staten Island Borough President, had been given 24-hour protection by the New York Police Department after learning that "a hit" had been ordered on his life.

"Throughout the campaign, the Borough President has been highly critical of Murphy in terms of the light sentences given to people convicted of car theft," Mr. Burke said. But reached on Sunday night, Mr. Murphy said he had no role in the prosecution of the car thief, Thomas Capace, adding that the case was handled by the Brooklyn District Attorney's office. Mr. Murphy said he had removed himself from the case because Mr. Capace's mother is a secretary in his office.

Mr. Burke initially said that Mr. Molinari had been told of the threat by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, which had learned of it from an informer. Later, however, Mr. Burke said that the information was received from an assistant chief of the New York Police Department on Staten Island.

Joseph Valiquette, a spokesman for the F.B.I. in New York, said that because Mr. Molinari received the information about the threat from the Police Department, his office would not comment. "Whatever information we share with the Police Department would not be public record, if it exists," Mr. Valiquette said. "I have no idea whether it is true or not."

Tom Kelly, the Police Department's deputy commissioner for public information, said that the police had been initially notified by the F.B.I. and that Mr. Molinari had been receiving protection since Friday.

political alliances. Gov. George E. Pataki, a Republican, and State Comptroller H. Carl McCall, a Democrat, have joined in endorsing the amendment. Last week, the two men, who have frequently clashed and are seen as potential gubernatorial rivals in 1998, appeared together to call for the amendment's passage.

On the other side, the state Conservative Party, upstate Democrats, supporters of Ross Perot and anti-tax groups have united strongly against the amendment. The Conservatives have been running radio ads in communities outside New York City that warn that the amendment "means more welfare for New York City and higher taxes for us."

Because the opposition has been outspoken and well-organized, even supporters of the measure say it is in danger of failing. Moreover, the opposition is strongest upstate and in New York City's suburbs, where turnout is expected to be highest. The city itself, where support for the amendment is thought to be strongest, has few important races and turnout is likely to be very low.

In New York City, voters cast ballots for local judicial posts and for district attorneys in the Bronx and on Staten Island. In Queens, the incumbent district attorney, Richard Brown, is unopposed.

To locate the proper polling place, voters should call the Voter Information Hot Line of New York City Board of Elections: (212) VOTE-NYC, or (866-3692). A special telephone has been set up for the hearing impaired: (212) 487-5496.

Mayoral Race in Yonkers Rekindles an Old Feud

By RAYMOND HERNANDEZ

YONKERS, Nov. 5 — When Terence M. Zaleski was elected Mayor in 1991, he took on broad governing powers that his predecessors had not possessed since World War II.

But for all the authority a revision in the Yonkers charter gave him, critics in both major political parties say city government has often seemed mired in partisan conflict during his four years in office. The debate over where the fault lies has shaped the mayoral race here in the state's fourth-largest city.

Mr. Zaleski, a Democrat who is seeking a second term, blames the Republican-controlled City Council, particularly his opponent in the mayoral race, the Council's majority leader, John D. Spencer. Mr. Zaleski, 42, said Council members obstructed sents a Democratic stronghold in northwest Yonkers and is therefore expected to do better among those voters than other Republicans would.

In spending, the two candidates are even: each has spent about $250,000.

The election comes as this city of 188,000 continues to struggle with longstanding problems. Torn by racial divisions, Yonkers has been under a court order to desegregate both its housing and schools since the 1980's. It has fought off bankruptcy three times in the last 20 years. And violence has crept into its schools.

Voters had hoped the city's troubles would be better addressed under a "strong mayor" when they

"What's frustrated them is that we've been able to prevail," Mr. Zaleski said. "They resented the change in the form of government. And they resented that it was no longer business as usual."

"John Spencer has been the architect of trying to hold back progress for this administration," said Mr. Zaleski, insisting that he has tried to set aside his differences with the Council, only to be rebuffed.

But Mr. Spencer paints a different picture, describing Mr. Zaleski as a poor leader whose abrasive style and political blunders led to one controversy after another.

He said a striking example of this occurred two weeks ago when the Mayor and the president of the city's N.A.A.C.P. branch announced that they would explore ways to end

Hon. Guy V. Molinari
Representative in Congress

Dear Mr. Molinari:

Re: Commuter Van Operations in the City of New York
Five Borough Van Association

Thank you for your letter of July 23 expressing your support for van transportation services for Staten Island residents.

At the present time we have twenty-two applications pending from individual van operators seeking a permit to serve commuters within the New York City boroughs. Hearings have been held on ten of these applications; seven applications have been scheduled for hearings in August; the remaining five applications will be scheduled for hearing in September. We are trying to expedite these applications as quickly as we can within our available resources and within the confines of the law. Unfortunately, the issuance of these permits is not a simple licensing function. The State Transportation Law provides for certain findings to be made and allows for a public hearing process. Most of these applications have been protested by the City of New York and/or the existing mass transit operators. The State Administrative Procedures Act mandates that we give these protestants full due process in our regulatory hearings.

As you know, the regulatory scheme in New York City is fragmented. The City has exclusive jurisdiction over the regulation of taxicabs and bus lines traversing fixed routes. State DOT has jurisdiction over contract carriers. While in our recent decisions we have interpreted contract carriage so as to include van operators serving commuters, this interpretation is subject to challenge in each of the regulatory application cases.

My personal attitude is that if existing mass transit facilities (bus and subway) are inadequate, then alternatives such as van operations should be authorized and made available to the public. However, because of the fragmentation of regulation in New York City we have to proceed cautiously to make certain that our regulatory decisions are not overturned in litigation.

The City of New York has two basic concerns with the van operators. One is that the van operators are adding to a severe traffic congestion problem in mid-town Manhattan. The other is that they are operating over the routes of existing subsidized mass transit facilities and diverting needed passengers and revenues from those facilities. The City contends that this diversion in turn requires that additional federal, state and city subsidy funds have to be provided to sustain the existing mass transit facilities.

I have recently met with Commissioner Anthony Ameruso of the New York City Department of Transportation to see how we could accommodate the concerns of the City and at the same time ensure that any needed transportation services are provided. On July 7th I approved a regulatory policy that sets forth the bases upon which the applications for providing commuter van services in New York City will be approved. Permits will be issued in situations where there are no existing nearby mass transit facilities or where the existing facilities are inadequate to meet the needs of the public. I am enclosing a copy of that policy statement.

Thank you for writing and expressing your views. I assure you that I will make every effort to expedite the applications pending before us and to make determinations on a case-by-case basis consistent with the enclosed policy statement and consistent with the public's need for additional transportation services within New York City.

Sincerely,

JOHN K. MLADINOV

Index No. 1352/82

- against -

ROBERT J. MAGUIRE, POLICE COMMISSIONER OF THE POLICE DEPARTMENT OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, RICHARD RAVITCH, CHAIRMAN OF THE TRANSIT
AUTHORITY OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK, ANTHONY
R. AMERUSO, COMMISSIONER OF THE DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK,

Defendants.

-----X
The Plaintiffs complaining of the defendants allege:

1. At all times hereinafter alleged the plaintiffs were operators of vans in the Counties of Richmond, Kings and New York.

2. At all times hereinafter mentioned Robert J.
Maguire was the Commission of the Police Department of the City of New York, Anthony R. Ameruso was the Commissioner of the Department of Transportation of the City of New York and Richard Ravitch was the Chairman of the New York City Transit Authority (sued herein as The Transit Authority of the City of New York).

3. That commencing in December 1981 and continuing to the present the various defendants consulted together and agreed each with the other to take actions harmful to the various plaintiffs and contrary to the rights of the plaintiffs to be free from injury, damage, harassment and unlawful imprisonment. That the events recited in this complaint came about as a result of said agreement.

4. That on the 17th day of May, 1982 the plaintiff Ronald Cullenen, hereinafter referred to as "Cullenen", was operating a van on the streets of Staten Island, County of Richmond, City and State of New York. That a bus owned and operated by the Transit Authority of the City of New York and driven by "John Doe" a Transit Authority bus driver pursuant to the aforesaid agreement did interfere with the right of Cullenen to drive on the streets of this City in that "John Doe" did drive his bus in such a way as to prevent Cullenen from safely proceeding; among other things "John Doe" did was to position the bus so as to prevent Cullenen from passing him; draw the bus across the path of Cullenen so as to force him to drive to the curb to avoid a collision. "John Doe" did throw coffee on the rear of the van of Cullenen. When Cullenen emerged from his van the said "John Doe" with his bus push Cullenen's van a substantial distance along the street with passengers inside, said van having no one at the wheel. As a result of such action damage was done to the van.

5. That on the 2nd day of June 1982 the plaintiff Sam Cohen (hereinafter referred to as "Cohen") was operating a van in Manhattan, New York County, City and State of New York. That bus owned and operated by the Transit Authority of the City of New York and driven by Joseph F. Cognato pursuant to the aforesaid agreement did deliberately drive his bus into Cohen's van and did smash a window in Cohen's van with the rear view mirror extending from the bus. That the window shattered and glass was strewn over various passengers in the van.

6. That on or about the 10th day of May, 1982 the plaintiff Walter Cary (hereinafter referred to as "Cary") was operating a van on the streets of Staten Island, County of Richmond, City and State of New York. That a bus owned and operated by the Transit Authority of the City of New York and driven by "John Doe" pursuant to the aforesaid agreement did pursue his van and harass him and cut him off by driving the bus in such a way as to force Cary to drive his van to the curb to avoid a collision. That "John Doe" did throw coffee on the van operated by Cary.

7. That on June 3, 1982 the plaintiff Hector Montalvo (hereinafter referred to as "Montalvo") was operating his van in Brooklyn, County of Kings, City and State of New York. That bus owned and operated by the Transit Authority of the City of New York and drive by "Richard Roe" pursuant to the aforessid agreement did while operating at a high rate of speed deliberately cut off Montalvo and force him to swerve to avoid a collision causing him and his passengers to be fearful for their safety.

8. That in January, 1982 a police officer of the Transit Authority of the City of New York did on Staten Island, County of Richmond, City and State of New York pursuant to the aforesaid agreement unlawfully imprison the plaintiff Fred Robinson while he was driving his van for an unnecessary arbitrary and excessive period of time while issuing summons to Robinson.

9. That on May 10, 1982 and May 27, 1982 a New York City Policeman did on Staten Island, County of Richmond, City and State of New York pursuant to the aforesaid agreement unlawfully imprison the plaintiff Fred Robinson while he was driving his van for an unnecessary arbitrary and excessive period of time while issuing summons to Robinson.

10. That on or about February 1, 1982 the plaintiff Robert O'Donnell (hereinafter referred to as "O'Donnell"), was operating his van on Staten Island, County of Richmond, City and State of New York when he was unlawfully imprisoned by "Marvin Moe" a police officer of the Transit Authority of the City of New York pursuant to the aforesaid agreement who held him for an unnecessary arbitrary and excessive period of time while issuing summons.

11. That on May 12, 1982 the plaintiff Maurice Goldstein (hereinafter referred to as "Goldstein") was operating his van on Staten Island, County of Richmond, City and State of New York, when he was unlawfully imprisoned by "Warren Woe" a police officer of the City of New York who held him for an unnecessary arbitrary and excessive period of time while issuing summons.

12. That on or about March 19, 1982, the plaintiff Salvatore DeBenedetto (hereinafter referred to as DeBenedetto") operating his van on Hylan Boulevard when he was unlawfully imprisoned by "Zachary Zoe", a Police Officer of the City of New York who held him for an unnecessary, arbitrary and excessive period of time while issuing summons.

13. That on or about January, 1982 the plaintiff, Alvin Miltz (hereinafter referred to as "Miltz") was operating his van on Broadway in Manhattan, County of New York, City and State of New York when he was unlawfully imprisoned by "George Goe" a police officer of the Transit Authority of the City of New York who held him for an unnecessary, arbitrary and excessive period of time while issuing summons.

14. That on or about June 17, 1982 in the County of New York an unnamed plaintiff, to wit Frank Occhipinto was stopped by a "Paul Foo" Police Officer of the City of New York and issued summons. Said officer then addressed Occhipinto's passengers telling them that they should not ride with Occhipinto as he was uninsured. Occhipinto is and was properly insured and authorized by the New York State Department of Transportation to carry passengers.

15. That on information and belief the defendants Police Department of the City of New York, Transit Authority of the City of New York, "John Dow", "Richard Roe", Joseph F. Cognato, "Marvin Moe", "Stanley Soe" and "Warren Woe", "Zachary Zoe" and "Paul Poe" and others whose names are not known at this time did at the urging of various parties conspire and unlawfully agree to conduct a campaign of harassment, false imprisonment and unjustified detentions against these plaintiffs as van drivers and owners and all other persons similarly situated.

16. That the police of the City of New York and the Transit Authority of the City of New York were, on information and belief, instructed by superior officers including the Police Commissioner to issue summons to the van owners and drivers in numbers and without regard to whether the summons had any basis in fact or law and to hold the owners and drivers for extended periods of time not justified by any lawful purpose.

17. That the bus driver named and others unknown at this time did on information and belief agree to a course of conduct to intimidate and harass and instill fear in the plaintiffs and others similarly situated. Said conduct consisted of the acts recited above and other acts unknown at this time.

18. That when these incidents of harassment by the bus drivers were reported to the Police Department and the Transit Authority pursuant to the agreement no cooperation was afforded the plaintiffs and the defendants did not discipline or investigate the incidents to the end that the bus drivers understood that they would not suffer any penalty for such conduct.

19. That the Department of Transportation of the City of New York has agreed and conspired with the Transit Authority of the City of New York and the Police Department of the City of New York to revoke permits previously issued to plaintiffs Robert J. Core, Hector Aguirre and Oscar Libermen and others similarly situate to use the express lane (Blue Lane) on the Gowanus Parkway in Brooklyn and to that end has issued revocations to the van owners of their permits without hearing or notice. The Department of Transportation of the City of New York has announced that it will revoke all permits for the use of the express lane (Blue Lane) on the Gowanus Parkway previously issued to all the plaintiffs and all persons similarly situated. The unilateral revocation will result in immediate and irreparable injury unless the defendant, Department of Transportation is restrained from the said revocations.

20. This revocation has been done and is proposed to be done although the said Department of Transportation of the City of New York allows taxis and limosines to use said express lane (Blue Lane) with as few as one passenger.

21. The plaintiffs have no adequate remedy at law.

WHEREFORE, the plaintiffs ask for an injunction against the defendants restraining them from:

1. Harassing the plaintiffs and all similarly situated parties.
2. Detaining the plaintiffs and all similarly situated parties.
3. Restraining the Department of Transportation from revoking the permit to operate in the Express Lane of the Gowanus Parkway. and for such other and further relief as to the Court seems just, together with the costs of this action.

I. PURPOSE

The FD-610 was designed to provide a complete set of pertinent facts for each Civil Rights case which can then be directly entered into a computer which will assist in a more effective, efficient and economical management of the Civil Rights Program. Each office MUST correctly complete ALL items requested on the form either on the initial submission or later by supplemental submission prior to the close of the case.

II. WHEN TO SUBMIT

The FD-610 is to be submitted in all cases supervised by the Civil Rights Unit, which include the following classifications: 44-CR; 50-ISS; 173-CRA 1964; 177-DIH; 187-Privacy Act of 1974-Criminal; 189-ECOA; 204-FRS; 214-CRIPA.

One function of the FD-610 is to replace the FD-365 in Civil Rights cases. It should be, in most cases, the initial communication advising FBIHQ of the initiation of an investigation, however, if the urgency of the situation requires a teletype the FD-610 should be submitted as soon as possible.

III. DESCRIPTION AND REQUIREMENTS REGARDING ITEM #1 ON THE FD-610

- Initial - should be checked if it is the first FD-610 submitted in the case - every attempt should be made to provide all the information required on the form on the initial submission; however, the initial submission of the form should not be held in abeyance while awaiting data which will be obtained at a later date.
- Supplemental - should be checked when providing data which was not available, and therefore was omitted from the FD-610 form(s) previously submitted.
- Revision - should be checked in all instances wherein information previously provided by form FD-610 was incorrectly reported. When submitting revisions, provide data only in those items requiring a change.

IV. *Denotes items on the FD-610 which must be completed on the initial submission by the Field Office.

[redacted] furnished the following information:

He advised the van owners have started an association and have requested him to be their attorney. He indicated he was aware of the incidents of harassment involving certain van owners and buses, owned by the New York City Metropolitan Transit Authority (NYCMTA). He stated his primary concern, in this matter, is a series of traffic tickets that have been issued to the van owners by officers of the New York City Police Department (NYCPD) and the New York City Transit Police Department (NYCTAPD) for various traffic violations. [redacted] indicated the number of tickets have been in the hundreds, and, to date, all have been dismissed in court with few exceptions. He stated his main interest concerning the issuing of traffic tickets, to the van owners, has been the length of time the van owner is delayed while the tickets are being issued. He advised in some cases he felt the van owners were delayed for unusually long periods of time. He stated he thought this procedure was done in an effort to discourage passengers from riding in vans in the future.

[redacted] indicated the NYCPD has slackened off in their ticketing, and, the tickets being issued presently are coming from officers of the New York City Transit Police. [redacted] further advised the individual policemen referred to in the civil suit he filed on behalf of the van association have not been further identified.

At approximately 5:15 PM, on the date of the incident (he did not recall the exact date, but advised it was during June, 1982), he was driving his bus, with passengers aboard, on West Street, in New York City (NYC), approaching the entrance to the Brooklyn-Battery Tunnel. He advised he was in the far right hand lane and traffic was heavy. He stated because the traffic was heavy and not moving, he engaged the interlock and the emergency brake, on the bus, for a period of approximately four or five minutes. He advised this procedure locks the wheels of the bus and prevents the bus from "crawling" forward. He indicated the bus cannot be moved.

[redacted] advised while the interlock and emergency brake were engaged he leaned back in his seat and was rubbing his eyes when a passenger van pulled up on the left side of the bus and attempted to go right, in front of the bus. [redacted] stated it was at this time the rear passenger side window of the van crashed into the side view mirror of the bus. [redacted] indicated the driver of the van must have misjudged the distance between the bus and his van as he attempted to move to the right.

Window glass smashed in 6 commuter vehicles

Vans' attorney hits 'acts of terror'

By DANIEL JANISON

"Acts of terror" and "goon hits" were among the terms used by Five Borough Van Association leaders after six of the group's Staten Island members found window glass shattered in their vehicles late Monday and early yesterday.

Curt Rogg-Meltzer, the group's lawyer, said he believed the vandal or vandals intended to "inhibit the operation of the vehicles." But he added, "We don't have any conclusions as to who was behind the events."

Some van owners filed police complaint forms but a Crimes Against Property Squad detective said last night his unit did not have an "active case" on file, apparently for lack of witnesses, a common problem in such cases.

FBI agents reportedly were making inquiries at the request of the association. An agent at the bureau's Island office declined comment but said there is a "pending investigation" related to the transit services.

Damage to the vans, which carry commuters to and from Manhattan in what the Transit Authority brands illegal, or "gypsy," service, was reported by operators on Retford and Hales Avenues, Eltingville; Pilcher Street off Forest Hill Road, Willowbrook; Bancroft Avenue, New Dorp; Quinlan Avenue, Meiers Corners, and Annadale Road, Annadale.

Earlier in the day, one non-member was reported to have had his van damaged as well but this could not be confirmed by police as of last night.

The group's political ally, Rep. Guy V. Molinari, several months ago called on the FBI to probe past reports of the vans being deliberately bumped by public buses and that a summons campaign by Transit Authority police violated their rights. Both charges were denied by transit and labor officials.

Some of the apparent targets claimed evidence that the windows and windshields had been shot out with air guns.

Rogg-Meltzer said the association suspects the damage was "in some way related to events that have been going on for a while, especially for the last two weeks."

When pressed on how he thought it was related, or how he thought the vandal or vandals picked targets, the attorney said, "We have some theories. Since I can't prove or establish them I can't say what they are."

"In many ways, these are acts of terrorism," he added. "Members are frightened for themselves. I hope it stops before someone gets killed from this."

On Feb. 10, a state Supreme Court justice in Manhattan ordered local authorities to stop "harassing" Alfred J. Manti, a Brooklyn firefighter who runs commuter vans from the borough's Bensonhurst section. The summons blitz quieted following that decision, Rogg-Meltzer said.

Last Wednesday, 30-day notices of claim were filed on behalf of 45 association members as a prelude to a new lawsuit naming transportation and transit police officials as defendants.

Rogg-Meltzer said another wave of summonses began Monday night. Also Monday, many of the van operators' summonses had come up in Criminal Court, Manhattan, and were dismissed, according to Five Borough secretary Joan Robinson.

Murray Kaplan of Serv-U Transportation, based in Willowbrook, said yesterday he found nine windows on his 1980 Dodge van destroyed when he went to his van, parked near his house, about 5 a.m. to make his first commuter trips of the day.

"There was nothing stolen, and I have a TV and citizens' band radio right in the middle of the van. Neither was touched," Kaplan said.

His riders will have to find alternate means of getting to and from work again today as he gets the glass repaired, he said.

After the discovery, Kaplan drove the damaged van to the Verrazano-Narrows Bridge toll plaza — to show, he said, "the work of a goon hit squad."

A year ago this month, Kaplan was in a collision with an express bus in which his left mirror was reportedly snapped off. A copy of the Authority's accident report, obtained by the Advance, noted no damage to the bus.

Yet last July, Kaplan received a written demand from a T.A. lawyer demanding $3,824 for repairs allegedly made to the bus.

The matter was later dropped after Kaplan challenged the Authority, but Kaplan said yesterday he now plans pursue the matter further in court.

Other van owners reporting damage were John Fleming and Richard Salerno, both of Eltingville; Sonny DeBenedetto of New Dorp; James Whalen of Meiers Corners and Anthony Guarcello of Annadale.

Guarcello was reportedly the first of the half-dozen to discover the damage when he saw his van 11:30 p.m. Monday.

Three related complaints filed in the 122nd Precinct stationhouse, New Dorp, were categorized as "criminal mischief" cases.

By JULIE MACK

There was a time, not so long ago, when foreign adoptions were something that people read about in newspapers and magazines. It was a curiosity, an anomaly, reserved for those daring, liberal couples who were not afraid to shock the neighbors.

Not anymore.

Foreign adoption has become an increasingly attractive alternative for couples who want a child and cannot conceive their own. Even in conservative enclaves like Staten Island, foreign adoption has achieved a measure of respectability.

"It's really popular," said an Eltingville resident, the mother of two children adopted from South America. She says her famable and a couple can wait years for a healthy infant through an American adoption agency.

While it is possible to find an infant through private sources, that route takes plenty of money and perseverance, with no guarantees.

And there are other perceived disadvantages of adopting a child here.

"I'm really leery of adoption in the United States," said a Dongan Hills mother with a 14-month-old daughter from Chile. "I know it sounds silly, but there are so many stories of children being taken back by their natural parents."

Others with foreign children agree there is a measure of security in knowing that their child's a month or two, said the spokesperson. South America is the most popular source for foreign adoptions because the children are Caucasian.

"It's obvious with a child from the Orient that the child is adopted," said the spokesman. "These sources in South America know this country is color-oriented, so they give us the lighter-skinned children."

In fact, the South American bloodlines blend particularly well in Staten Island, where many of the people have Italian ancestry — the same ancestry found in Columbia, the most popular source for foreign adoptions. That means children of foreign adoption often resemble their adoptive parents from the Island.

ADOPT

everything is 'tomorrow,' and it drives you crazy," said one parent.

"It's not easy to deal with the South Americans," sighed the mother of a 13-month-old child from Chile. "We felt like this one person, this priest who ran the orphanage, was ruling our lives."

committee since Feb. 22 when the committee voted 6 to 3 against reporting it out. The motion to discharge was introduced by Council President Carol Belamy.

The motion failed despite last-minute lobbying by Mayor Edward I. Koch and Gov. Mario M. Cuomo. It is almost unheard of for a governor to get involved in strictly local lawmaking.

Weather satellites up for bids

By RANDOLPH E. SCHMID
WASHINGTON (AP) — The government is planning to sell to private companies the five satellites used to collect weather and land information.

President Reagan made the decision for the sale early yesterday, said John V. Byrne, head of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, which currently operates the satellites.

In addition, Byrne said, private firms will be given responsibility for developing future ocean observing systems employing satellites.

"The transfer will be carried out by a competitive process which will allow private firms to enter bids on the land or weather satellites as separate systems, or to enter a single bid for both systems," Byrne said at a news conference.

He declined to estimate the cost of the system or to set a timetable for the sale. Congress-sional action will be necessary before the actual transfer can occur, he said.
